

The importance and power of stem cells is they give us the natural ability to heal and renew ourselves permanently.

What are stem cells?

In a healthy body, millions of cells appear every day and their role is to regenerate our tissue. Adult stem cells appear naturally in the body and, according to the National Institute of Health, they have the specific ability to develop into different cells such as:

- Muscle Cells
- Blood Cells
- Nerve cells

In essence, the adult stem cells, during migration to other areas of the body that require, they regenerate themselves.

In theory adult stem cells can multiply indefinitely as long as the body is alive.

80% increase in the production of live adult stem cells

You can now recognise and use one of most important developments in the health field. Help your body stay healthy; fighting against the aging process, in a natural and completely safe manner.

SYNERSTEM

A natural formula

SynerStem is derived from a plant that helps you maintain a good health. SynerStem® is a major product because its ingredients work synergistically: Increased production of stem cells is much higher using the SynerStem formula than would be achieved by consuming its components individually.

This unique blend promotes natural renewal of your body and gives results you expect, without synthetic ingredients or prescription.

The Benefits

Healthy stem cells can repair tissue; cells renew and stay healthy by ageing.

SynerStem :

- provides elements that allow stem cells to grow
- increases the growth of adult stem cells, as has been demonstrated by studies in vitro and in vivo
- promotes the natural renewal system of the body by the combined action of its components
- Protects existing stem cells and cells of the nervous system from the adverse effects of free radicals and stress
- Increases the migration of stem cells to areas of

The synergy of the components

In addition to the action of nutrition and protection of your adult stem cells, each component in the formula provides other benefits.

The green tea extract:

antioxidant boosting the health of the respiratory system and digestive systems.

Blueberries and wild blueberry extract:

The extract of wild blueberry promotes a healthy brain, heart, eyes, affects the blood glucose level and urinary function.

Carnosine:

Carnosine is a natural antioxidant amino acid that protects tissue and nerve cells from the harmful effects of free radicals. It also slows down the aging of cells and increases the lifespan of adult stem cells.

Vitamin D3:

Vitamin D3 (chole calciferol, green tea, blueberries, ...) strengthens the immune system and affects the health of the heart and bones.

The natural micro-algae:

Blue-green algae is naturally rich in protein, natural fatty acids, chlorophyll, beta carotene and contains a large quantity of micro nutrients that strengthen the body's ability to maintain good health and wellbeing. The blue-green algae has a strong antioxidant and has been shown that it strengthens the immune system.

SynerStem : why is it so important?

As we age, the natural power of cell turnover decreases. For this reason it is important to feed our bodies to enable it to stay healthy and heal itself naturally. Adult stem cells are the basis of the natural regeneration system. Without strong and vibrant stem cells, our body's ability to regenerate and repair the damages of time is less important.
